Alacrity appoints key KAZ director

Mobile internet company Alacrity Technologies has appointed Michael O'Sullivan, former director of KAZ Group, as a director and consultant, specialising in commercial and legal development. O'Sullivan was the former commercial director of KAZ from 1991 until May 2005. He held key roles in KAZ's float on the Australian Stock Exchange in 2000 and its acquisition by Telstra for $333 million in 2004. Prior to KAZ, O'Sullivan consulted to the NSW Treasury Department and previously was the commercial manager for ICT services company AWA.
